

Terry Seabrook Quintet- Celebrating Wayne Shorter

Terry Seabrook's Quintet explores the music of one of the greatest contemporary jazz composers, Wayne Shorter and features some of the UK's most outstanding musicians: Andy Panayi – sax and flute, Graeme Flowers - trumpet, Simon Thorpe-bass, Peter Hill -drums & Terry on piano.

Shorter was one of Miles Davis's most important sidemen and contributed so many brilliant original songs for that quintet. Shorter has been a prolific composer throughout his career and written for all of the bands in which he played including Art Blakey's Messengers and of course Weather Report.

There has been much to choose from but the songs selected and arranged include One By One - Speak No Evil - Black Nile - Ana Maria - Fee Fi Fo Fum- Witch Hunt - Prince of Darkness - Nefertiti - Night Dreamer, ESP, Infant Eyes, Wild Flower and many more.

And there will also be some originals by Terry including a new suite inspired by Wayne's music: A Shorter Suite

This has all been recorded and due for release in the Spring 2020.

Thanks once again for the fantastic performance - I wish I could hear it all again!

Maureen Hopkins of North Wales Jazz

Great musicians playing wonderful music. Our members were particularly enthusiastic in saying how much they enjoyed the band.

Derick Woodland of Folkestone Jazz

Brilliant, crowd-pleasing band with tight ensemble playing and imaginative, fluid soloing throughout.

Annette Keen, Splash Point Jazz Club Eastbourne

Really top jazz!
